COST: CornTogether is part of The Gift economy to build autonomy, reduce barriers and deepen connection. We gift space rental, advertising and resources to run the event and you give back what you feel is fitting. Give money, time, promotion or any form of gift to further this. One helpful way to help with start up costs: donate half of your predicted value before the event. Then donate after knowing how well the event worked out for you. Feel free to only give after or not at all depending on your results and how much you get involved in the events success.

If you are part of a village, that village may have its own method.

All gifts are created equal.
